

ELEVEN MILLION WOMEN GIVEN RIGHT TO VOTE

Nation-wide woman suffrage, granting the right to vote to every competent American woman in the United States over the age of 21 years, became part of the basic law of the United States when the house of representatives of the Tennessee legislature, by a vote of 49 to 47, ratified the Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment.

The measure had already been ratified by the Tennessee senate so that Tennessee became the thirty-sixth state to ratify, thus completing the ratification by two-thirds of the states and putting the amendment into the national constitution, bringing to a victorious conclusion the long fight for equal suffrage in the United States.

There are 26,883,566 women in the United States eligible to vote. Of this number more than half already had been given the right to vote through amendments to their state constitutions, as in California, Illinois, New York, Arizona and other states.

Aids South.

But in the southern states, part of the New England states and certain of the other states women had been unable to gain the right to vote until today when national equal suffrage became an accomplished fact.

More than eleven million women were added to the voting strength of the United States by today's action. Both political parties recognize that these women, combined with the women of the states like Illinois and New York who have only recently been granted suffrage, are sufficient to turn the tide of the national election in November.

Both the Democrats and Republicans are claiming a majority of the newly fledged voters, but they admittedly constitute one of the great problems of the present campaign for the presidency.

Millions to Vote.

There are 11,652,780 women in the United States who were granted suffrage by today's action of the Tennessee legislature in ratifying the national suffrage amendment. Action by individual states had already granted suffrage to 15,230,786 women.

Among the states where women had not granted equal suffrage until today were the following:

Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Texas, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia.

BICYCLE RACES FOR THE BOYS

Just what day or days the races will be held has not been decided upon as yet. They may be held on one day, or spread out over the four days of the Rodeo.

BIG SANDY SECTION SOON TO BID FOR LAURELS AS PRODUCER OF PRIZE COTTON

Several farmers of the Big Sandy section have this year planted in the neighborhood of 100 acres to long and short staple cotton to demonstrate the feasibility of growing this crop here and from the indications seen by a representative of the Miner one day this past week, it is very probable that it will prove a yield that will surprise the expectations of the most optimistic.

There are about a dozen experimental fields of a size of from 3 to 12 acres and of these, the fields of R. P. Morrow and W. A. Neal were examined.

The Morrow field of long staple at this date is well over 5 feet in height and many plants are close to 7 feet in height, and one plant examined shows, at this early date, a total of 153 bolls.

W. A. Neal has a 12 acre field of short staple that has attained an average height of about 5 1-2 and some of the largest plants are well over 6 feet. One plant among this field showed a total of 210 bolls, squares and blooms.

A number of cotton growers from other states have examined the fields and among them, a gentleman from the great cotton state of Texas, who has 400 acres in short staple cotton at this time in his home state, made the statement that never in his life of growing cotton, had he ever seen the equal of the cotton now growing in this section and further that he believed that it was destined to succeed as he could see nothing to interfere with maturing at this time.

Should this experiment prove itself, as it seems it has already done, it will result in all the available lands of the Sandy section being put into cotton next year and we feel safe in saying that it is going to add greatly to the industry of Mohave County, as well as to the financial betterment of all of the growers concerned.

Success to the new venture.

COME TO THE RODEO FOR A GOOD TIME

Much interest is being taken in Kingman's Second Annual Rodeo, September 3 to 6 by the people of Northern Arizona. Secretary I. R. Bartholomew has already received a good many applications for entrance in the different events.

Assistant Manager Lee Robinson wired yesterday for the bucking horses which are to be shipped from Flagstaff and they should arrive any day now. The corral at the Fair Grounds have been completed.

Programs and rules have been mailed out to many who are figuring on entering. All entries have to be made by the night of the Second, the night when the election of judges and timekeepers will be held at the Beale Hotel.

All visitors who are expecting to be here for the Rodeo may notify T. W. Devine, Kingman, chairman of the reservation committee. The earlier the better.

Among other forms of entertainment arranged by the manager of the Rodeo will be the cowboy dance, held the night of the 6th at the Park.

The winners of the different events in the Rodeo will handle this dance and it will be a live one. Jimmy James and his orchestra will furnish the music.

GOES EAST

David Curtin left for the middle west Monday after a long visit with his son, James Curtin, of Mohave County. He will go to Detroit, Michigan, first where he will visit a daughter. From there he will go to Pontiac, where he will see another son.

David Curtin is a fine old man and made many friends in this county during his stay here.

CONVENTION CON- SIDERS LAND LEGISLA- TION FOR SOLDIERS

V. P. Lucas, who attended the state convention of the American Legion at Douglas, will report back to the Ellis Harbach Post of Oatman next Friday night. He will also give the Swasey Post a copy of his report, inasmuch as they could not send a delegate. Speaking of the work at the convention, Mr. Lucas said:

"It was a pleasure to be at this Convention and to meet the kind of men whom the various Posts had sent to represent them, one couldn't help but be impressed with their honesty, intention and sincerity of purpose.

The Convention endorsed the four fold plan of beneficial legislation which was presented to Congress by National Headquarters but spent most of its time in considering beneficial land legislation both State and National. In this connection we endorsed the San Carlos Dam project and a proposition presented by the Frank Luke Post No. 1 of Phoenix, whereby State land now idle and unused might be thrown open to ex-service men for settlement.

In order to more fully aid Public officials in determining what the ex-service men feel would be of help to them the Constitution was amended so as to provide a permanent "Beneficial Legislative Committee", whose duty it would be to bring before the law-making bodies measures which were designed to conserve and develop the natural resources of our State and Nation and at the same time be of assistance to ex-service men, to the end that we might help our Nation be great in peace as well as war.

The U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals were commended for the wonderful work they are doing among the disabled men and the cooperation of the Legion was pledged to seeing that this great work was brought within the knowledge and reach of every disabled service man without unnecessary "red tape".

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance had a representative present and plans were devised whereby the man who desired readjustment of compensation, reinstatement of insurance, delayed allotments fixed up and such matters, could take these questions up with the Legion's War Risk Officer and in this way facilitate the work for both the man and the department.

All the perplexing problems of reconstruction were taken up, discussed and suitable action taken.

One matter which will come before the people of the State to be voted upon this fall was the creation of a "Soldiers and Sailors Civil Service Commission". This matter was discussed with much vigor by both its proponents and opponents and was finally endorsed by a small majority.

DANCE TO-NIGHT

The Rosetree will have a dance to-night as usual. Good music and a good time.

MAKES TRIP TO BOUL- DER CANYON DAMSITE

The widespread interests in the building of the Boulder Canyon dam is evidenced in the dispatching of a survey party from the reclamation service to the site, under the direction of George A. Hammond. This corps is building pontoons and getting the work lined up for the taking of soundings across the river at the site of the proposed dam. Some soundings have already been taken with the gratifying results.

Tuesday last Anson H. Smith, accompanied by F. H. McClure, Al Jorgenson and W. J. Cook departed to the canyon in two cars, reaching the river at old Stone's ferry in the evening. The following morning a raft was constructed and the three last named gentlemen set sail for the head of Boulder Canyon to make photographs and to picture the whole project, taking in the site and the big country that will be put under water when the dam is a reality. They made the trip in safety to the camp of the reclamation service, twelve miles from the old ferry, and were hospitably entertained by the engineers. These gentlemen also took the explorers to the proposed damsite and also indicated where good pictures could be taken. These pictures were secured, as well as those of the Virgin Valley and other interesting country in the immediate vicinity. Just after securing the picture of the mouth of the Virgin a great flood came down that stream and mingled its muddy waters and all kinds of driftwood with the waters of the Colorado river, raising the height of that stream more than a foot in an hour.

The return trip was made last night, Messrs. Smith and McClure getting to Kingman at one o'clock, the other gentlemen being left at their homes in Chloride. The trip was one of the most profitable ever taken by any persons into that territory and impressed the party with the wonderful possibilities of the project. That it is great one has but to gaze upon the pictures that were brought back, with the knowledge of the needs for the husbanding of the water of the Colorado river for the benefit and protection of the farming community for several hundred miles south of the dam. The engineers in charge of the work are just as enthusiastic over the project as were the visitors, believing that it will be one of the largest and most prolific of good of any reclamation project in the world.

The pictures that were taken will be used for magazine articles and newspaper publicity, as well as before congress when the big project comes before that body in December for action.

GEORGE GRANTHAM TO REPORT TO DETROIT

His Kingman friends were glad to hear this morning that George Grantham had been recalled to the Detroit Club. He will report to Detroit as soon as the season is over in the northwest, about the first of the month.

George was signed up by Detroit and had been farmed out to Tacoma for a try-out. He had made a good showing but had not been allowed in as many games as he thought he should have been. One day when the Detroit scout, Eddie Herr, was watching his work he was put in as a pinch hitter in the ninth, with two men on, and Tacoma needing one run. As luck would have it, George fanned. However he had chances to make up for this and has lined out several for two and three bases, at the right time.

This order came as a surprise to George, as he stated in a letter received by his uncle, Mert Wagner. He will get some action at Detroit before the season is over and if he looks good to them back there, will get in a fine large season next year.

OUT OF DANGER

Dr. A. L. Tilton was called to the Diamond Joe Tuesday night in response to a telephone call, but before he arrived there, as he was climbing the Copperville grade, he met a truck bringing Mrs. H. Henderson, who was seriously ill, to Kingman. As soon as the message was phoned in, the telephone line was put out of commission, and for a time there was considerable anxiety felt by those who had relatives there, as to who was sick.

Mrs. Henderson is now reported out of danger.

KINGMAN-FLAGSTAFF GAME SAID TO BE WAY BELOW PAR

Kingman was beaten the second time by Flagstaff on the Flagstaff grounds last Sunday. According to Manager Patterson the boys were not playing with their usual snap. In fact they played way below par as evidenced by the fact that the score was 14 to 4. This in face of the fact that the same team was beaten by Kingman but a few weeks before.

Following is the score by innings as gained from the Flagstaff papers and from Captain Price:

FIRST INNING—First half: Bale out, May to Carlson, on an easy rolling ball. Fennell out to O'Connor, who made a pretty catch over his right shoulder, killing a hit. Hayes put up a long fly to Hanley in center field. No runs, two hits.

A JURY TERM IN DECEMBER, MAYBE

Judge Bollinger will handle several cases in the Superior Court during the month of September, among them the Schuyll case and the Buckley-Welsh case.

The Apex suit, between the United Eastern and the Tom Reed, has been set for October 4th.

It is thought highly probable that the Judge will call a jury session during the month of December. This in view of the fact that County Attorney S. D. Stewart, who is not a candidate for re-election, has many cases with which he is familiar, to try before his retirement.

BABY DAUGHTER

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Stackpole, last Saturday morning, at Oatman. The little lady has already been named, Virginia Ann. This makes Wallace Keith a grandfather.
